WHAT WE DO

Honest, senior-level review of your legal position

Many people facing trial, already sentenced, or supporting a family member never get a straight answer about what is realistically possible. Their own lawyer may be busy, conflicted, or simply too close to the system to give an independent outside view.

We are not the police, the Crown Prosecution Service or the court. We are an independent team of senior UK lawyers and barristers with over fifty years of combined experience on serious cases. We read everything you send us and give you a clear, written assessment: what your options are, what steps can be taken, and what realistically can and cannot be achieved.

One price. Agreed upfront.

We do not charge by the hour, the letter or the phone call. Each service is one fixed price. We provide expert review and guidance — we are not a substitute for instructing a solicitor of record, and we do not guarantee outcomes.

Who we work with

- People awaiting trial, before they plead
- People already sentenced
- People whose appeal has already been attempted
- People preparing for, or recently released from, custody
- Families, partners, parents and siblings acting from the outside
- Legal professionals seeking a second opinion

Why people come to us

- No tie to the police, CPS, courts or Probation Service
- Senior lawyers and barristers only — never paralegals
- Plain English, not jargon
- Every critical deadline identified and flagged
- An honest answer, including when there is no case
- Fully online — we serve the whole of the UK

Before you plead, know where you stand

Do not wait until after sentence to ask whether things could have been different. Our pre-trial review checks the indictment particulars and plea credit, the Sentencing Council guideline range, Newton hearing and factual dispute risks, and the strength of the evidence and possible defences.

Confidential. Fixed-fee. Entirely independent.

THE PROCESS

Four simple steps

01Get in touch

Send a short enquiry through our confidential form or WhatsApp.

02Send your documents

Securely upload court papers, charge sheets and sentencing remarks.

03We review everything

Senior lawyers and barristers examine every page of your case.

04Receive your assessment

A clear written report on your options and recommended next steps.

What happens after you send your documents

No guessing, and no hourly billing surprises. Here is exactly what to expect once your papers are with us.

WITHIN 24 HOURSWe acknowledge receipt

A short confirmation by email or WhatsApp. We tell you whether we have everything we need, or if anything is missing.

TYPICALLY 7–14 DAYSSenior lawyer or barrister review

A senior UK lawyer or barrister reads every page of your bundle, cross-checking the facts against the law, the indictment, sentencing remarks and any transcripts.

WHEN REVIEW IS COMPLETEWritten assessment prepared

A clear, plain-English report covering the merits, realistic outcomes, time limits, recommended next steps and anything else you should know.

SAME DAYReport sent securely

Delivered by the method you chose — usually password-protected email or a secure link. We then explain anything you are unsure about.

AS NEEDEDOptional follow-up support

If you want to act on the advice, we can discuss the next practical steps, appeal time limits, and how best to instruct a solicitor of record.

Longer or more complex bundles may take a little more time. If so, we tell you the expected date upfront.

INCLUDED FREE IN EVERY PACKAGE

AI reads every page. A senior lawyer does the thinking.

Long case bundles hide important detail — missed mitigation, sentencing errors, disclosure gaps. Our AI reads every page in minutes and flags what matters. A senior UK lawyer then verifies every line and signs off the final report.

What the AI looks for

- Inconsistencies between the indictment, evidence and sentencing remarks
- Missed mitigation a busy trial advocate may have overlooked
- Possible appeal grounds against conviction or sentence
- Sentence calculation anomalies (SDS, SDS+, EDS, Section 250)
- Disclosure gaps and unused material worth chasing
- Time-limit alerts — Crown Court 28 days, Magistrates 21 days, CCRC routes
- Categorisation, HDC and release-date errors
- Procedural irregularities at trial or sentence

What the AI does not do

- Give you legal advice on its own
- Make decisions about your case
- Contact the court, prison, or any third party
- Release a report before a senior lawyer signs it off

How your documents are handled

- Encrypted transfer into access-controlled infrastructure
- Not used for AI training — enterprise contracts prohibit training on, retaining or sharing your material
- Securely deleted after your final report is delivered, or sooner on request

The AI report is a preliminary tool only. Nothing leaves our office without a senior UK lawyer's verification and signature. AI is a tool, never the decision-maker.

Important. We provide independent legal case review and guidance. This service does not constitute formal legal representation, and we are not instructed as solicitor of record. We provide expert review and guidance; we are not a substitute for instructing a solicitor of record, and we do not guarantee outcomes. We use AI to read every page of your bundle so nothing is missed — but AI is a tool, never the decision-maker. Every finding is verified and signed off by a senior UK lawyer before you see it.
